

ISRAEL

With offices on three continents, experience in jurisdictions around the globe, and a network of local partners, Goodwin serves clients where and when you need us. By leveraging the experience of attorneys working across practices areas and office locations, our Israel Practice provides solutions and produces results for companies doing business in Israel, as well as companies interested in investment opportunities in the region.

Attorneys in Goodwin's Israel Practice have significant experience working with Israeli businesses as well as internationally-based investors in Israeli companies. We understand the Israeli legal structure, culture and business environment, and many attorneys in our practice are proficient in Hebrew. Our practice includes representing companies, investors and investment banks in a variety of areas, including private equity, venture capital, a wide range of intellectual property matters and complex commercial litigation. From start-up financing and corporate partnering to public offerings and mergers, we help clients with deep roots in Israel find the strategic paths that foster growth.
